LATEST TELEGRAMS. The Killing of James Fisk.

NEW YORE. Jan 6 .- Fisk was shot at harfpast four this afternoon, in the vestibule of the Grand Central Hotel. He had just alighted from his carriage and entered the New York, Jan. 7 .- At midnight, Fisk said he thought he would get over it. He walked up-stairs after he was wounded.

At midnight. Fisk slept tranquilly, the doctors considered the symptoms invorable. The ball was found, but not extracted; F sk gave a lucid account of the event to the Fisk died at eleven this morning. The employees of the Eric Railroad, of all grades, crowded the corridors during the morning.

Jay Gould was constantly in attendance. While Fisk lived, Gould's face wore its usual calm expression, but when Fisk expired his fortitude gave way, and his grief found vent in tears. No unkind word has been heard of the vast crowd, but many tongues recounted his acts of kindness. FURTUER DETAILS. James Fisk, Jr., died at 10:45 a. M. at the

Mrs Fish was creatly agitated when in-formed that death was certain, and burst in-A large number of personal friends and the guests of the hotel, were admitted to view the body before its removal.

At 2 o'clock P. M., it was taken to the late residence of the deceased, on Twenty third street. To morrow the remains will be escorted to the New Haven Railroad depot by a brigade of militia, including the Ninth Regiment. A special train will convey them to Brattleboro, Vermont, where the funeral will take place, at 1 o'clock, David Dudley Fields wrote Fisk's will last night.

Fisk's statement to the Coroner was to the effect that he had come to the hotel and made inquirias as to whether Miss Moses was in; being answered in the affirmative, proceeded up stairs; he had no suspicion that any one intended to harm him; when about on the first landing he saw a flash and feit something strike him upon the abdo-men; before falling he recognized Stokes as his assassin; he did not again see Stokes
